Mass copying in exam: KSOU orders probe

Prof. Halse

Mysuru, Apr. 27 (RK&VNS)- With alleged malpractices reported during final year MA (Mass Communication and Journalism) exam conducted by Karnataka State Open University (KSOU) at one of its examination centres at Laggere in Bengaluru, the University has formed an enquiry committee to probe into the matter.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, KSOU Vice-Chancellor Prof. Sharanappa V. Halse said that he had received complaints about the alleged malpractice during the exam and based on which a committee had been constituted to conduct a thorough investigation.

"Based on the Committee's report a decision on conducting re-examination would be taken along with initiating disciplinary action against those involved," he said.

It is alleged that the students were seen copying openly using their mobile phones while writing their exams between Apr. 16 and 24 with no invigilators present at the exam hall. Further, it is believed that the invigilator left the exam centre after distributing question papers and returned only a few minutes before the deadline to collect the answer scripts.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

FOCUS ON 'BRAHMAN': At times, there may be a discussion about whether people are born as a result of their past deeds or, after being born, they undertake various deeds. It is like "Bhijankura Nyaya." Bhija refers to seeds and ankura means sprouts. It cannot be said whether sprouts came from seeds first or vice-versa.

Valayapettai Sri Ramachariar said in a discourse that a person whose mind is steadfastly set on the realisation of self and undeluded by the body consciousness would neither rejoice the pleasure nor grieve the grief. He whose mind is engaged in the contemplation of "Brahman" will enjoy undecaying bliss.

For those pleasures that are born of contact are wombs of pain. Five blemishes or defects or sins (doshas) may emerge in the process of enjoyment through worldly contacts: Aarjana dosha — people undergo untold suffering to earn money. Rakshana dosha — encounter with various difficulties to protect and save the hard-earned money. Kshaya dosha — the wealth earned is not permanent and is perishable or destructible. People may constantly fear their wealth will go off them.

Bhoga dosha — the more we experience material comforts, the more the urge and desire grow in us. It is like offering oblations in fire, which kindle the flames to leap high. If people do not get the desired comforts, they end up with sadness. Himsa dosha — it refers to causing trouble to others while we try to obtain the means to enjoy our comforts.

Woman interviews 90 people in 55 hours!

Lagos: A Nigerian woman broke a world record for the longest interviewing marathon after hosting 90 people over 55 hours, 24 seconds.

Clara Chizoba Kronborg hosts a talk show on YouTube called "Women's World Show." She beat the previous record holder, Rob Oliver, who had a time of 37 hours, 44 minutes in 2022.

The interview marathon included conversations with people from various backgrounds speaking about how they achieved success in their respective fields as politicians, business owners, content creators and more.

Kronborg conducted the interviews on a docked yacht in Marbella, Spain and was allowed a 5-minute break every hour.

Volcano spews tiny crystals of gold

Antarctica: It sounds like a dream, but it's true in Antarctica, gold rains from the sky. Tucked in among the glaciers, fiery Mount Erebus is the southernmost active volcano on Earth, providing a bit of heat amid the frozen landscape.

The frozen continent features 138 volcanoes, according to a 2017 study, with around nine of them reported as active. With a summit elevation of 12,448 feet (3,794 meters), Mount Erebus is the most well-known.

While volcanic bombs are exciting, it's the bursts of gas spraying tiny crystals of metallic gold that surprise scientists, who estimate the volcano spews around 80 grams of gold a day — that's worth around $6,000.

Antarctic researchers have detected traces of the gold dust in ambient air up to 621 miles away from the volcano.

Irate villagers ransack polling booth in Hanur, pelt stones

- Tahsildar, Police Inspector, Cops and villagers injured in incident
- Election Commission likely to order for re-polling, says Chamarajanagar DC

Hanur, Apr. 27 (BS)- A section of villagers who had boycotted to vote in Chamarajanagar (SC Reserve) Lok Sabha Constituency that went to polling in the first phase of elections held yesterday, went on a rampage, damaging the polling booth at Indiganaththa village in the fringes of Male Mahadeshwara Hills forest in Hanur taluk of Chamarajanagar district.

The angry villagers ransacked Electronic Voting Machine (EVM), door of the polling booth and furniture inside, besides indulging in stone pelting, injuring Tahsildar Guruprasad, MM Hills Police Station Inspector Jagadish, District Armed Reserve (DAR) Policemen and villagers identified as Shivakumar, Mahadevaiah, Sannamma and others in the melee.

The Police took to lathi charge to disperse the crowd and brought the situation under control after sometime.

The villagers of Indiganaththa, Thekane, Mandare, Tulsikere and Padasalanaththa had announced to boycott the Lok Sabha elections, in protest against depriving them of basic amenities like road, drinking water and power supply among others.

As they appeared adamant staying away from voting till 1 pm, the officials made efforts to convince them and majority of them refused to budge, except for a few of the villagers in Maldare who relented and agreed to take part in the electoral process.

As Maldare villagers went to vote, the other villagers took exception to their move and engaged in a verbal duel, that later took a violent turn, it is said.

Deputy Commissioner and District Electoral Officer (DEO) Shilpa Nag said: "It is most likely that Election Commission may order for re-polling at Indiganaththa village. Following the violence, a report has been submitted to EC. The villagers had submitted a memorandum demanding road, electricity and drinking water facilities to their villages. The villages collectively have 550 voters who had decided to refrain from voting. However, following the efforts of officials, 20 residents of Maldare had agreed to vote, during which time there was a heated exchange of words between two groups."

DC Shilpa Nag further stated that "The stones were hurled targeting Police and polling staff and a case has been registered with further action taken in this regard. A report along with First Information Report (FIR) copy has been submitted to Election Commission of India (ECI)."

Curb stray horse menace

Sir,

Star of Mysore has previously highlighted the serious issue of stray dogs, which unfortunately persists. Now, in addition to this concern, a new problem has arisen: Stray horses roaming the main roads of Mysuru, particularly in Ramakrishnanagar and surrounding areas.

These horses often run at high speeds on roads and pavements, posing a significant danger to pedestrians and motorists alike.

I have personally experienced the consequences of this issue, as some years ago, while commuting to the office on my motorcycle, a stray horse suddenly darted onto Nelson Mandela Road in Bannimantap, resulting in a collision that caused injuries.

On behalf of the concerned citizens of Mysuru, I urgently request the authorities to address this menace posed by both stray horses and dogs. Immediate action is needed to ensure the safety of residents and commuters in our city.

Unexpected humanity

Sir,

During one of my recent walks to Kukkarahalli Lake, I encountered a humane incident. A group of foreigners caught my attention as they were compassionately tending to a wounded street dog.

I approached them and discovered that the dog had been injured four days ago, and since then, these foreigners had been diligently providing care, including bandaging its leg and offering pedigree for nourishment.

In a world often marked by selfishness, witnessing such genuine kindness from strangers, especially towards a street dog, left me profoundly impressed.

This incident served as a powerful reminder that every living being, regardless of their nature, deserves to experience humanity and compassion.

Pharmacy Council cancels registration of 32 Pharmacists

Bengaluru, Apr. 27 (BS)- The Karnataka State Pharmacy Council (KSPC) has taken strict action against pharmacists who have been consistently absent from their duties at medical stores. The registration of 32 pharmacists has been cancelled as a result of their prolonged absence.

In response to the serious issue of pharmacists' absenteeism, the KSPC has initiated disciplinary measures. The names of 16 registered pharmacists have been temporarily removed from the registry for a period of three months, while the names of another 16 pharmacists have been permanently deleted.

Additionally, the KSPC is actively enforcing Section 42 of the Pharmacy Act, 1948, which stipulates that only registered pharmacists are authorised to dispense medicine based on a doctor's prescription. This measure aims to safeguard public safety in the distribution of medication at medical shops.

Under Section 36 of the Pharmacy Act, 1948, the Council has the authority to take action against pharmacists who neglect their professional duties. This includes removing their names from the registry for a specified period or permanently. It is considered misconduct for a pharmacist to allow the owner of a pharmacy to use their registration certificate in their absence.

The action against the 32 pharmacists was taken after due process, including hearing their side of the story. During inspections conducted by a team of Pharmacy Inspectors, it was discovered that several registered pharmacists were hired merely as a formality. In such cases, shop owners were notified of legal restrictions and the absence of registered pharmacists, as reported in a pharmaceutical journal.

"Devanur Mahadeva Jothe Maatukathe" book released

Senior writer Krishnamurthy Hanur seen releasing the book "Devanur Mahadeva Jothe Maatukathe," along with noted litterateur Devanur Mahadeva, writers Prof. O.L. Nagabushanswamy and Prof. Tukaram, Actor Prakash Raj, Wildlife experts Krupakar and Senani and others in city recently.*

Mysuru, Apr. 27 (PM&DM)- Noted litterateur Devanur Mahadeva has been likened to a "Loka Samvadi" (world conversationalist) by senior writer Krishnamurthy Hanur, who remarked on the richness of Mahadeva's narratives.

He made these comments while speaking at the release of the book titled "Devanur Mahadeva Jothe Maatukathe," a compilation of select interactions with Mahadeva.

The event was organised by Abhiruchi Prakashana at the Navakarnataka Publications Book Shop premises at Ramaswamy Circle recently.

Having engaged in talks and discussions with Mahadeva for over three decades, Krishnamurthy expressed admiration for Mahadeva's ability to embody the role of a "Loka Samvadi." He described Mahadeva's conversations as narratives infused with intellectualism, reflective of societal disappointments, and offering solutions to prevailing issues.

Krishnamurthy emphasised Devanur Mahadeva's universality, noting that while he may not be affiliated with any particular religion, caste or creed, he is widely embraced across various communities.

Reflecting on the experience of reading Mahadeva's book, Krishnamurthy drew parallels between the dialogues within it and conversations that might take place in a humble dwelling in Chitradurga, evoking the spirit of esteemed figures like Belagere Krishnamurthy and Siriyajji.

Maj. Gen. (Retd.) Sudhir Vombatkere, in his address, underscored the importance of translating Mahadeva's work into all Indian languages to facilitate unity among Dalit communities.

During the event, writers Prof. O.L. Nagabushanswamy, Chandrashekar Aijoor, Chikkamagalur Ganesh and Prof. Tukaram were honoured with copies of the book.

Among the attendees were former Rangayana Directors C. Basavalingaiah and H. Janardhan (Janni), Actor Prakash Raj, Wildlife experts Krupakar and Senani, Dr. S. Narendra Kumar, Padma Sriram, Devanur Mahadeva's wife Sumitrabai and Publisher Abhiruchi Ganesh.

Election Musings

As I meet voters, party workers and politicians, I get the sense that fear-mongering and lies are afoot this election season, along with freebies.

In today's full-front-page advertisement in The Times of India, the BJP has warned the backward caste voters that Congress will add Muslims to their reservation list, essentially eating into their quota.

On the other hand, Congress has warned the nation that BJP will do away with the Constitution.

Unlike 2014, which was about development, this election has suddenly fallen back to religion.

To some extent, BJP still has an element of 'vikas', unlike Congress, which, instead of vehemently talking about job creation and development, is still stuck in 'defeat Modi' mode.

Of course, the Hindutva politics of the BJP is very much alive and I fear it shall remain so as long as Congress' appeasement politics is alive.

Secularism in India has been reduced to mere political currency, even by the so-called secular parties.

This reminds me of Sonia Gandhi, who gave a grand and emotive speech in the Parliament soon after the Gujarat riots. She told the BJP leaders present, "You have turned Gujarat into the land of Godse, not Gandhi." But when the Gujarat elections soon rolled in, she promptly appointed a former RSS member, Shankersinh Vaghela, as her election in charge!!

That is why Booker Prize-winning author Arundhati Roy rightly said, "For more than half a century now, the hatred and mutual distrusts (between Hindus and Muslims after partition) has been exacerbated, toyed with and never allowed to heal by politicians, led from the front by Indira Gandhi.

Every political party has tilled the marrow of our secular Parliamentary democracy, mining it for electoral advantage.

Like termites excavating a mound, they've made tunnels and underground passages, undermining the meaning of 'secular' until it has become an empty shell that's about to implode."

Now, along with religion, freebies have gone mainstream. Be it Congress in Karnataka or BJP in Madhya Pradesh, instead of teaching the people how to fish, they are giving them fish snatched from the hands of hard-working, tax-paying middle-class Indians.

In short, political parties have decided to 'officially' bribe their way to victory using tax-payers' money. Worse, this indiscriminate dispensing of freebies could kill work ethic, ambition and inclination towards entrepreneurship not just in our State but across the country.

A healthy democracy needs a strong Opposition and only Congress can provide it. Unfortunately, they continue to obsess over minorities and the Gandhis instead of new ideas.

In time, the BJP will also face a similar problem as it is too dependent on Hindutva and Modi. I sense the post-Modi era is going to be a tumultuous one for India.

For now, the run-up to this election has been disappointing. One assumed that the BJP's 'vikas' promise would change the political discourse from religion to development, but alas.

Dull elections & exciting bookies

A day before the election, I met a few party workers and rural voters to gauge their mood. It turns out they were in no mood. This election lacks the excitement we saw in 2014 and 2019.

There is no Modi wave this time, but there is the feeling of 'Modi-hope' — he is a messiah or saviour-like mindset. I see a similar cult following among Congress workers too, but it was more for Siddaramaiah than Rahul Gandhi.

There are no catch phrases on the lips of BJP supporters. 'Abki baar char sau paar' and 'Viksit Bharat 2047' haven't garnered any traction.

On the other hand, there is no sign of even remote expectation among Congress voters about I.N.D.I.A forming a government.

But they seem to have some hope that by some miracle they will hold BJP under 272.

But the most exciting interaction I had was a chance meeting with a few bookies visiting Mysuru from Bengaluru.

These bookies had as much election data and the ability to analyse the election as any pundit or psephologist I have seen on TV. They had robust information from the ground based on which they had opened betting odds!

In Mysuru, one of the bookies said he didn't take bets as the winner was clear and even said the winner would win by a margin of nearly a lakh. Another said, in Wayanad Rahul Gandhi had trouble initially but now will see a very comfortable victory.

The now famous BJP face in Tamil Nadu, Annamalai, the bookies agreed, had moved to a competitive space and said the BJP might get 2-3 seats in Tamil Nadu.

When I asked about Karnataka, they said the BJP may not do as well as they did last time but, at the same time, said Congress will not be exceptional either — one will barely touch double digit and the other will not get as much as last time.

The betting pattern was very interesting. They showed me a graph indicating how the pattern had changed every couple of days in the last three weeks. I was blown away! Every hard-hitting speech by a senior leader or incident showed a change in the betting pattern.

It felt like I was sitting in a corporate office with MBAs giving me a financial presentation, albeit this was on two large laptops placed on the hood of a car with hot tea and cigarettes.

They said the most exciting Constituencies in South Karnataka were Mandya, Tumakuru, Hassan and Bengaluru Rural as they expect close fights. I asked them how often they get their numbers right, and all of them said, they usually get close enough most times.

Then I asked, "Abki baar char sau paar?" They all laughed and said, "Aur ek baar Modi sarkar possible saar... but Char sau paar impossible saar."

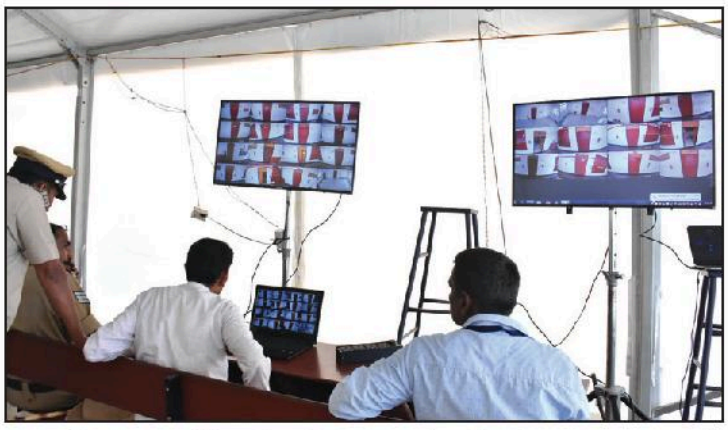
Three-tier security for EVMs



Mysuru, Apr. 27 (MTY&BCT)- Security for the strong rooms storing Electronic Voting Machines (EVMs) and the VVPAT systems (Voter Verifiable Paper Audit Trail) will be organised in three tiers.

Armed personnel from the Central Reserve Police Force (CRPF), specially deployed for this purpose, will assume control over the counting centre security. It may be mentioned here that the CRPF personnel were not deployed for voting and pre-election security and monitoring. They have been called to Mysuru only to guard the counting centre.

The strong rooms will feature a single entry point and a double lock system, with keys securely held by the Returning Officer. Additional entry points, including windows, will be sealed to prevent unauthorised access.

Responding to concerns raised by political parties, the Election Commission (EC) has instructed district election authorities to reinforce the security of the strong rooms. Security measures have been bolstered with three layers of protection.

Over 30 armed CRPF personnel are providing the first layer, while the Karnataka State Reserve Police (KSRP) is responsible for the second layer. The third layer of security will be managed by from City Armed Reserve (CAR) and District Armed Reserve (DAR) personnel. In all, there are over 150 personnel guarding the counting centre in three shifts 24X7.

All Tahsildars and Tahsildar-grade officers (Class 1 officers) of the Constituency have been appointed as strong room Gazetted Officers and will maintain a continuous presence outside the strong rooms in three shifts of eight hours each.

City Police Commissioner Ramesh Banoth assured that accessing the strong rooms would be nearly impossible due to the extensive security measures in place. Over 150 closed-circuit surveillance cameras and display screens are monitored round the clock. Even senior officials are restricted to inspecting the security arrangements from outside the strong room, with the entire campus under surveillance.

Security personnel will maintain a logbook detailing entries regarding the date, time, duration, and the names of individuals entering the premises. Elaborate arrangements have been made for the welfare of security personnel, including provisions for food, water, toilets, fire extinguishers, and ambulances.

EVMs secure at counting centre

Night-long process

A night-long procedure commenced post-polling and involved sealing the EVMs and VVPATs at the respective polling booths before transporting them to the mustering centres for de-mustering.

In light of the 18 candidates contesting, this Lok Sabha election necessitated the use of 2 EVMs per booth, as each machine can only accommodate up to 16 candidates. As such, there are two EVMs per booth.

Each of the 11 mustering centres was equipped with dedicated strong rooms, where the machines were methodically deposited in a booth-wise manner according to their serial numbers. Once the machines were securely locked within the strong rooms, polling officers departed the mustering centres.

Later in the night yesterday, the machines were transported to the counting centre at Maharani's College of Commerce and Management for Women, with the operation being overseen by senior district officers and the Police. To ensure additional security, the entire process was videographed.

Election officers reported that it was well past midnight when the machines arrived at the main counting centre. Upon arrival, the machines were segregated Constituency-wise and placed in designated sections under pre-assigned numbers. The task continued till this morning with officers working overnight.

Delay from Virajpet

However, as of 12.30 pm today, the EVMs and VVPATs from the Virajpet Assembly segment were yet to reach the counting centre. This delay was attributed to the remote villages deep within the forest and border areas where polling booths were established.

The machines from Virajpet reached the mustering centres only this morning, and from there after the de-mustering, they were being transported to the counting centre. Officials informed Star of Mysore that the machines from Virajpet are expected to arrive at 2.30 pm today.

Once the machines arrive from Virajpet, they will be deposited in the respective rooms, with each constituency allotted one large room. In cases where smaller rooms are designated, two rooms per constituency are allocated. The machines will be segregated boothwise and clearly marked for identification. Later, the counting centre will be sealed and the security will be taken over by Central Reserve Police Force personnel.

A classical treat...

Vid. N. Ravikiran giving a Chitraveena Recital at Sri Bidaram Krishnappa's Sri Prasanna Seetharama Mandira on Narayana Shastry Road in city on Apr. 25 as part of 108th Ramanavami Heritage Music Festival with Vidu. Gayatri Sivani on violin, Vid. Tumkur Ravishankar on mridanga and Vid. Sharath Koushik on ghata.

Sri Bidaram Krishnappa's Sri Prasanna Seetharama Mandira witnessed a sumptuous classical treat on Apr. 25. The internationally acclaimed Chitraveena Maestro Vidu. N. Ravikiran enthralled the audience with his chitraveena recital. A child prodigy, a prolific composer, an author, a performer of vocal and chitraveena, a Guru and an activist, Ravikiran has too many achievements for his credit. He has discovered many ragas, written not just Varna or kruthis, but also operas apart from composing music for several lyrics. He has the vast experience of working with western artistes too. But when he is on the stage to perform Karnatak classical music, he is a strict traditionalist.

He was accompanied by young Vidu. Gayatri Sivani on violin, Vid. Tumkur Ravishankar on mridanga and Vid. Sharath Koushik on ghata.

His disciple Dhruva Patangi gave a vocal support. The recital was more manodharma oriented. The opening 'Etula brotuvo' (Tyagaraja-Chakravaka) created a perfect mood to praise Sri Rama. He paid his respects to Bidaram Krishnappa by playing his composition 'Amba brovave' in the raga Dharmavathi. Bidaram's compositions are rarely heard, hence it was a welcome. A splendid alapana with all the nuances of Dharmavathi was a perfect prelude to the grand Kruthi. 'Ragasudharasa', Tyagaraja's composition in Andolika was soothing.

Ravikiran has extensively researched on OOthukadu Venkata kavi's compositions. His repertoire is amazing. After a beautiful alapana of Shahana, he played a composition of Venkata kavi. Main raga of the day was Todi. A gamakavarika raga, its bhava is expressed through perfect gamakas. They are its primary embellishments. One has to be an expert to play gamakas on chitraveena, a fretless instrument (A modified gottu vadya).

His expertise surfaced in the alapana with the graceful gamakas. Every phrase was time tested and dipped in pure classicism. A nugget from the mines of Tyagaraja 'Koluva maregada' was a real treat along with Gayatri. Gayatri excelled in accompanying the main artiste. Dhruva's vocal too contributed for the enjoyment of lyrics all along. Tumkur Ravi shankar and Sharath Kaushik enthralled the audience with their tani avartahana. 'Pibare Ramarasam' was a fitting finale.

Crowd pullers

Our own violin brothers, Vid. Mysore M. Nagaraj and Dr. M. Manjunath, played at the same venue on Apr. 26. They are very popular all around the globe. They were accompanied by Vid. Neyveli Venkatesh on mridanga and Vid. Trichy Krishnaswamy on ghata.

The concert began with 'Sri Chamundeshwari,' the most popular Keerthana penned by Mysore Vasudevachar in the raga Bilahari. It was followed by a short sketch of Raga Chandrajyothi by Nagaraj with soft touches. Tyagaraja expresses his amazement and says that not even Brahma can describe or understand the Maaya or the miraculous tricks of Narayana in 'Baagayanayya.' It is a fine piece which never ceases to attract the rasikas. Yet another short sketch of Saraswathi Manohari by Nagaraj lead to 'Entha vedukondu o Raghava,' another popular composition of Tyagaraja.

Manjunath opted for Shanmukhapriya for elaboration. He preferred to weave a magic carpet with straight notes mostly. It is a pity that we are so much accustomed to the loud speakers that our ears ignore or fail to appreciate the subtle nuances of either the raga or the instrument.

Patnam Subramania Iyer's 'Marivere dikkevarayya Rama' which highlights the 'Sharanagatha' Bhakthi was well presented with a fine neraval at 'Sannuthanga Shri venkatesha neevu' and a speedy Kalpana swaras.

After a soothing 'Manasa sancharare' penned by Sadashiva Brahmendra in the raga Sama, Manjunath started the alapa in the raga Bhairavi as per the listeners choice. The versatility is really their asset. It is a result of their immense stage experience. 'Upacharamu chese,' the majestic gait of the Keertana by Tyagaraja was well-presented by the brothers. The tani by Neyveli Venkatesh and Trichy Krishnaswamy was very pleasing.

Their soft beats were enjoyable all through the concert. Nagaraj and Manjunath also presented a Raga-tana-pallavi in Charukeshi. The beauty of the raga was unveiled delightfully by both of them. A vigorous Taana added pep to it. 'Bhavayami Raghuramam Shree Ramam Raghukula tilakam' was the lyrics of the Pallavi set to Khanda triputa taala. A melodious ragamalike of only two ragas Valachi and Des was flawless. Bhagyada Lakshmi baramma was a welcome on a Friday that brought the curtains down.

134th Sri Ramothsava Sangeethothsava-2024

A concert with a difference

Trichur Brothers — Vid. Krishna Mohan and Vid. Ramkumar Mohan — performing at Smt. Alammana Choultry in Mysuru on Apr. 25.

Trichur Brothers — Vid. Krishna Mohan and Vid. Ramkumar Mohan — sang for Ramabhyudaya Sabha at Smt. Alammana Choultry in Srirampet on Apr. 25 evening. They were accompanied by Vid. Trichur R. Mohan on mridanga and Vid. Kovai Suresh on ghata.

The first thing that came to notice at the concert was that there was no violin accompaniment for this vocal concert. When asked, the brothers replied that they wanted to try this concert without violin accompaniment.

The evening opened with the Atta tala varna 'Chalamela' in Shankarabharana by Maharaja SWati Tirunal. The brothers took some time to settle down with the microphone settings. 'Siddhivinayakam anisham' by Dikshitar was rendered with clarity of diction and swarakalpana at two places — one at the beginning of the pallavi and the other at 'Prasiddha GaNanAyakam.'

'Sri RAmam RavikulAbdhisOmam' in Narayana Gowla is a soulful composition of Muthuswami Dikshitar rarely heard in concerts these days. The vocalists presented this in the right speed leisurely which was admirable. 'Deva DEva kalayAmide sharaNAgata sEvanam' also by Swati Tirunal in Mayamalavagowla was handled well with a detailed neraval at 'jAta rUpa nibhachEla', which was meaningful as the sahitya of these lines means 'God, be pleased and obliterate all my accumulated sins, with blessings and mercy and protect me, as you vanquished the asuras and their clan, In support of the greatly oppressed devas, Who took refuge in you.'

The brothers were conversational throughout. They got plenty of request slips from the audience which they heeded to. So their original plan of the concert had to change. "Bhuvaneshwariya nene mAnasave' by Muthiah Bhagavatar was one such request to which they obliged. The ragalapana was brief after which they presented the composition followed by swarakalpana. It was surprising how the artistes with their immense concert experience and practice missed the tala more than twice during the swarakalpana.

'Mokshamu galada' in Saramathi was the next request for which with no elaboration the vocalists allowed taniyavartanam, which was rather early. The taniyavartanam was energetic and resonant with their father Mohan's mridanga and Kovai Suresh's ghata. After the tani, the concert got more interesting with an RTP in Bahudari. Both the ragalapana and the tanam were shared by the brothers. The sahitya of the pallavi was 'Krishna Nee Begane Baro' (which they could have converted to RAma nee begane Baro' as it was a Ramnavmi concert) set to Adi tAlam.

Both neraval and swaras were expanded in ragamalika in Saveri, Behag, Shanmukhapriya, Vasanta and Sindhubhairavi alternately. After the pallavi, a Ram Bhajan was presented in which the audience were also made to participate. The lyrics of this bhajan 'Ram BhArat kA vichAr hai...' is an excerpt from our beloved PM Modiji's speech at Ayodhya on the occasion of Ram Lalla's Pratishtapana.

This bhajan set to tune by the brothers in Desh was sung with vigour and the audience participated in it wholeheartedly. The brothers concluded the concert with a set of requests from the audience, singing a bit of all the compositions 'AkhilAndeshwari raksha' by Dikshitar. 'Enta muddu' in Bindumalini by Tyagaraja, 'Raga sudharasa' in Andolika by Tyagaraja and 'NArayaNa ninna nAmada smaraNeya' in Shuddha Dhanyasi by Purandaradasaru. The concert closed with Muthiah Bhagavatar's popular nottu 'GmmrgP rgS, Nsn dnRsdP' of Madurai Mani Iyer fame.

Dead on electoral rolls, living queue up, but cannot vote !

Mysuru, Apr. 27 (PM&BCT)- Efforts to attain clean and error-free voter lists have fallen short, even after 76 years of Independence. The persistent issue of 'ghosts' — deceased individuals listed as alive — and the prevalence of duplicate names continue to plague most extensive voter databases.

In Mysuru-Kodagu LS Constituency, numerous voters found their names missing from the electoral rolls during yesterday's polling. Additionally, complaints arose from certain polling stations regarding dead individuals still being listed, while living individuals had their names either deleted or transferred to a different segment of the voter list. Consequently, many voters were left disheartened upon returning home.

Shockingly, individuals who passed away 10 to 15 years ago are still included in the voter lists. Take, for example, Booth Number 171 in the Chamaraja Assembly Constituency, located at The Institute of Education Trust Educational Institution on Sahukar Chennaiah Road in Saraswathipuram. Here, the name of Umesh Rao, a resident of Gangothri Layout, is absent from the voter list.

Instead, Umesh Rao's name has been erroneously included in the voter list of the Chamundeshwari Assembly Constituency, at a school in Bandipalya. However, Umesh Rao's troubles don't end there. His wife, Sowmya's name has completely vanished from the list.

"I voted from Booth Number 171 in the Chamaraja Assembly Constituency in the last Assembly election but my name has been shifted to the Chamundeshwari Assembly segment now. My wife has voted here in the last election. But her name has been deleted here," Umesh Rao told Star of Mysore.

There was frustration and anger among voters who had to leave without voting as their names were missing from the electoral rolls. They said that they had participated in the last Assembly elections and had valid voter identification cards.

Pravin Mysuru, a resident of K.R. Mohalla, expressed his dismay, stating, "We cast our votes in the 2023 Assembly elections, so we assumed we would be able to vote this time as well. However, the names of two of our family members are missing."

Despite spending crores of rupees on periodic revisions and preparations, voter lists remain riddled with anomalies, providing ample opportunity for fraudulent voting. The lack of coordination between City Corporation and Revenue officials, who are responsible for issuing Death Certificates in urban and rural areas respectively, and the offices of the Election Commission, is cited as the primary reason behind the current discrepancies in the voter lists.

Manipal Hospital drives six in-patients to vote

Mysuru, Apr. 27 (SBD&BS)- In a unique move on the first phase of LS elections held in Karnataka yesterday, Manipal Hospital Mysuru, with the support of the Election Commission of India, spearheaded a crucial initiative to guarantee that every citizen, regardless of their medical condition, could exercise their fundamental right to vote.

They pioneered efforts to provide essential transportation facility in ambulance and medical assistance to six in-patients who were eager to cast their vote.

Among the patients were: Shobha Rani, a 37-year-old with complaints of acute left-sided headache and spontaneous nasal bleeding (epistaxis), who is currently undergoing treatment under Dr. H.A. Dathathri, Consultant ENT-Head and Neck Surgery. Aruna Yadav, a 53-year-old patient, who underwent a laparoscopic hysterectomy on Apr. 24, under the adept hands of Dr. K.G. Amulya, Consultant Obstetrics and Gynaecology at the hospital. She is currently recovering and being monitored at the hospital.

Navya Shree, 28 years, who is receiving treatment for acute lower respiratory tract infection by Dr. R. Lakshmi Narasimhan, Consultant Pulmonology also exercised her franchise before returning to the hospital.

Despite their health challenges, the other patients namely Nikhil, Noor Ahmadi and Tejaswi also voted, as they were determined to exercise their voting rights. The team at Manipal Hospital Mysuru, helped them with transportation by ambulance and medical assistance to ensure safe travel to designated voting booths to cast their votes without any hassles.

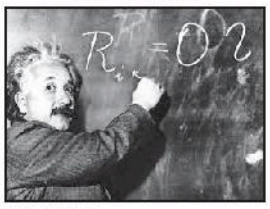
WORD OF THE DAY

Luminary



Pronunciation: LOO-muh-nair-ee.
Meaning: A luminary is a person of prominence or brilliant achievement. The word luminary may also refer to a celestial body, such as the sun or moon."
Origin: As, dare we say, leading lights of the dictionary game, we're here to brighten your day with the 411 on luminary. This word has been casting its glow in English since the 15th century, and it traces back to the Latin word lumen, meaning "light." Other lumen descendants in English include illuminate ("to light up"), luminous ("emitting light"), phillumenist ("one who collects matchbooks or matchbox labels"), and bioluminescence ("the emission of light from living organisms")."
Example: "The upcoming documentary will dive deep into the lives of the next generation of basketball luminaries, Jonquel Jones, Nneka Ogwumike, and Breanna Stewart, as well as WNBA legend, Sheryl Swoopes." —Okla Jones, Essence, 18 Dec. 2023

THE ODD WORD

Landocracy

Government by the propertied class; timocracy.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Learn the ropes

Meaning: Learn the ropes means to learn how to do something.
Origin: Not surprisingly, the origin of the phrase "Learn the ropes" is nautical. Before the days of ships powered by steam or fossil fuel, almost all ships had sails. New recruits had to learn how to tie knots and manipulate the ropes that moved the sails to capture wind most effectively; this series of lessons was termed "learning the ropes."
Example: "Once I learn the ropes at my new job, I won't be so nervous and I'll be very good at the work I do."

QUOTE BOX

Hold this rope while I dive into my soul; don't even bother pulling it if I didn't come up on my own.—Ahmed Mostafa
